Mounting your new mailbox

- 1 Mount the mailbox under an eave or other protected area. While holding these instructions against the wall at the desired location, mark the wall at the center of each dot at the bottom of this page. These marks represent the bottom mailbox hole locations. Use a level to make sure the page is positioned correctly.

- 2 Drill into the wall at each marked location. Use a 1/4" drill bit for brick or other masonry wall. Use a 1/16" drill bit for wood wall.

- 3 For brick or other masonry wall, insert a plastic anchor (included) into each hole. Tap in gently if necessary. This step is not required if mounting on a wood wall.

- 4 A) Screw two of the included screws into holes almost all the way, allowing enough space to slide the bottom mailbox holes snugly over the screw heads.
B) While holding the mailbox against the wall, mark the wall at the center of the two top holes, then remove the box by lifting and sliding it off the two bottom screws.
C) Repeat steps 2 and 3 for the two top holes.
D) Remount the box by sliding it back onto the bottom screws and securing it with the top screws.

Using your new mailbox

The mail carrier will lift the upper lid and deliver your mail through the slot. To retrieve your mail, lift both the upper and lower lids. After retrieving your mail, close the lids.
